

Karma for Cara Community Service Youth Microgrant Program

Karma for Cara is a non-profit founded by 21-year-old Cara Becker and her family while she was undergoing treatment for leukemia at the Johns Hopkins Kimmel Cancer Center. Cara and her two brothers began volunteering at a young age as part of their family's commitment to community service. She and her family saw a tremendous need to help support other patients and their families who were also challenged by cancer. Tragically, Cara passed four months after her diagnosis, yet her wish to help others through K4C lives on with the support of an ever- growing circle of family and friends.

Karma for Cara's mission consists of three goals: supporting youth engagement and service, recognizing unsung heroes in service and reducing the suffering of cancer patients and their families. As part of our efforts to support youth volunteerism, we have started a microgrant program. We are encouraging kids 18 and under to apply for funds to complete service projects in their communities. Whether it is turning a vacant lot into a community garden, rebuilding a school playground or helping senior citizens get their homes ready for winter, we want to hear what project you're passionate about.

Tell us about your project, and we'll help you get started. Microgrants will range from $250 to $1,000 and be distributed as gift cards to home goods stores, office supply stores, grocery food chains and toy stores.

All applications should be submitted to info@karmaforcara.org

As described in this Privacy Policy, We collect personally identifiable information directly from you through our microgrant application form (the "Form") to administer a microgrant program for children up to age 18 to perform community service projects. The types of personally identifiable information that may be collected through the Form include the parent's full name, parent's billing address, parent's email address, parent's phone number, child's name, child's age, child's phone number and child's e-mail address. The Site does not collect any credit card or other payment information.

We require that You complete the Form with or for your child. By completing and submitting the Form, You acknowledge and agree that You must provide the information prompted by the Form, have read and understood this Privacy Policy, and consent to the Site's practices in collecting and using personally identifiable information for children under 13 years of age as specified in the COPPA NOTICE.

We may also request an e-mail address when a user submits a form through the "Contact Us" portion of the Site so that we may respond to the inquiry. We collect the e-mail address for the sole purpose of responding directly on a one-time basis to a specific inquiry.

Additionally, We may passively collect certain non-personally identifiable computer information from visitors to the Site, such as the type of computer operating system, the user's IP Address, the Web browser being used, and information regarding the Internet service provider, for internal operations purposes. We may collect this non-personally identifiable information through the use of software technologies such as "cookies." Cookies are small text files that we place in visitors' computer browsers to store their preferences. You can choose to have your computer warn you each time a cookie is being sent, or you can choose to turn off all cookies. You do this through your browser settings.

If You choose not to submit personally identifiable information through the Form, then We reserve the right not to provide the services associated with our microgrant program.

- HOW DO WE USE, DISCLOSE, AND STORE THE INFORMATION WE COLLECT?

In addition to the purposes described above, We may use e-mail addresses to enable parents to review personally identifiable information that children may have submitted to the Site and to provide notification regarding the Site, such as any future amendments to this Privacy Policy. We also may use information in the aggregate to analyze Site usage.

We may disclose information where We are required to do so by law, for example, in response to a court order or a subpoena, or where We disclose information to service providers or other group companies who provide support for the operations of the Site and who do not use or disclose the information for any other purpose. To the extent permitted by applicable law, We also may disclose personally identifiable information in response to a law enforcement agency's request or if We feel that such disclosure may prevent the instigation of a crime, facilitate an investigation related to public safety or protect the safety of a child using the Site, protect the security or integrity of the Site, or enable us to take precautions against liability. If We sell all or part of our business or make a sale or transfer of our assets or are otherwise involved in a merger or business transfer, We may transfer personally identifiable information to a third party as part of that transaction, to the extent permitted by applicable law.

- DO ANY THIRD PARTIES HAVE ACCESS TO MY INFORMATION?

The Site only uses personally identifiable information about children for internal operating purposes. Though third parties participate in the microgrant program by providing gift cards or other financial assistance to perform community service projects, the Site does not share any personally identifiable information with those third parties in the administration of the program.

- COPPA NOTICE: Direct Notice to Parents

The Karma for Cara Foundation (the "Site") Privacy Policy describes how the Site collects and uses personal information. You can review the Site's Privacy Policy by clicking on the words "Privacy Policy" above.

The Karma for Cara Foundation, a Maryland nonprofit corporation, operates the Site, the online home for our philanthropy honoring the memory of Cara Becker. Cara passed away in 2013 at the age of 21, but her spirit for community engagement lives on through Karma for Cara.

- WHAT INFORMATION DOES THE SITE COLLECT AND USE?

As described in the Privacy Policy, the Site collects personally identifiable information directly from parents to administer a microgrant program for children up to age 18 to perform community service projects. The types of personally identifiable information that may be collected at that time include the parent's full name, parent's billing address, parent's email address, parent's phone number, child's name, child's age, child's phone number and child's e-mail address. - HOW DOES THE SITE COLLECT AND USE THIS INFORMATION?

Parents submit personally identifiable information about their children through the use of a microgrant application form (the "Form") available on the Site. After the parent and child have submitted the Form, the Site's professional staff records the information solely for the use of administering the microgrant program and other internal record keeping and operating purposes. The Site does not use cookies, Web beacons or similar technology to collect personally identifiable information. Karma for Cara Foundation deletes personally identifiable information after the conclusion of any individually administered microgrant program.

- DOES THE SITE SHARE THIS INFORMATION WITH ANY THIRD PARTIES?

The Site only uses personally identifiable information about children for internal operating purposes. Though third parties participate in the microgrant program by providing gift cards or other financial assistance to perform community service projects, the Site does not share any personally identifiable information with those third parties in the administration of the program.

- HOW DOES THE SITE GET CONSENT FROM PARENTS FOR THE COLLECTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION?

The Form contains a section requesting parental consent, including a parental signature. In order for the Site to process and administer any microgrant, this section must be filled out and submitted to the Site. Karma for Cara Foundation also recommends that parents review the Privacy Policy and this COPPA Notice from time to time in order to review the Site's policies and procedures. A parent's affirmative signature to and submission of the Form to the Site means that such parent consents to the collection, use and disclosure of the personally identifiable information of his or her child in accordance with the Privacy Policy and has reviewed this COPPA Notice. A parent can at any time review or change the information collected by the Site about his or her child by contacting the Site at the address below.
